Facilitator(s): Dr Judith Dinham, Senior Lecturer, School of Education

Strategic theme: Rich, interactive learning experience

Subject Title: Creating learning activities in multimodal formats

Contact Details: Judith Dinham x2865

Brief Description:

In their everyday lives our students are active participants in a multimodal world of communication. Creating multimodal assessment options provides an effective way for students to demonstrate learning and at the same time, develop and exercise the literacy skills required for the 21st century. When students apply knowledge from one context (e.g. textbooks) in another communication format (e.g. digital storybook, newsletter, comic, video, infographic) they are involved in a process of transformation that highlights the degree to which they have internalised the information and can critically and creatively interpret the material. In this showcase Judith Dinham will cover several alternative assessment submission formats that have wide applicability.
