Postgraduate degree options

There are various pathways to a postgraduate program at Curtin. Many of our postgrad courses allow you to enrol in a graduate certificate and progress through to a master degree.

Graduate Certificate (GCERT)

Graduate Certificates are a great way to upskill, and experience postgraduate study without enrolling in an entire master degree. You'll study four units (6 months full time study) and deepen your knowledge in your chosen area of focus.

A Graduate Certificate is also a great stepping stone into a Master degree, for those that don't meet the direct entry requirements.

Direct entry Master

A direct entry Master is an advanced qualification for those students that have a relevant bachelor and relevant documented work experience.

While courses differ, generally, you'll study eight units (1 year full time) and develop mastery in your chosen field. A Master offers a real career boost, and is a great opportunity to build networks with other experienced professionals.

Two year Master

Two year Master programs are designed to include foundational knowledge in the first year, and then progress into mastery in the second year.

These courses are ideal for students that don't have a relevant bachelor, or work experience. So, if you're a career switcher, looking for a change in direction, this could be a great opportunity for you. This option could also suit you if you're an international onshore student.

Your postgrad journey starts with who you are, your previous education and experience, and your career goals and aspirations. We're here to help you find the right course for you.

I'm looking to change my career
