

SAFETY MOMENT

For everyone's safety, work safely. #SafeWorkMonth

Who needs to read this?

All Curtin University Staff – especially Health and Safety Representatives and First Aiders

Background

Welcome to the first week of National SafeWork Month. Each week of the month we'll be sharing resources to build our knowledge and prioritise safety in the workplace. In week one the topic is "Working together to manage risks at work".

Information

As HSRs, you are the eyes and ears of Curtin University – and together, we can identify, mitigate, and reduce hazards and risks around campus. This week, we'd like you to take a walk around your area with an eye on how the work is being done - Are procedures being followed? Are Chemical cabinets a little on the full side? Has your office areas become cluttered with materials that need to be removed?

Key Messages

WorkSafe WA have recently released an AED safety bulletin concerning the ongoing maintenance of AEDs - could you please take a look at any in your areas and check:

If housed in an AED Cabinet:

If located in an AED bag:
